

Admin Panel - Academic Predictions

■ What Does This Recommendation Tool Do?

Not sure what course to take next? 🤔
If you're aiming for strong grades, this tool can help you choose wisely.

Just enter two subjects where you've performed well, along with your scores. Based on patterns from past students, our system will recommend courses you're likely to succeed in — and even predict your potential grades!

🎯 Use Case: "I scored 85 in Object-Oriented Programming and 90 in Programmimg Concepts. What should I take next to keep my grades high?"

Course Recommendation

Course A

Programming Concepts

Score A

85

Course B

Object-Oriented Programming

Score B

80

Get Recommendations

Recommended Courses

Based on Course A: Programming Concepts (Score: 85)
and Course B: Object-Oriented Programming (Score: 80)

Predicted Score

Computer Network

Computer Ethics and Society

0102030405060708090100

Predicted Score

Recommended Course	Predicted Score
Computer Network	75.04
Computer Ethics and Society	73.65

🎯 Top Recommendation

Based on your scores, the course most likely to help you continue performing well is: Computer Network with an estimated score of 75.04.

Based on your performance in Programming Concepts and Object-Oriented Programming, the courses above are ones you're most likely to succeed in — with predicted grades shown for each.

These suggestions are made by analyzing past student data using a combination of course patterns and grade predictions. While it's not a guarantee, this could guide your next step academically.